PRINCIPAL'S NOTE

FROM PRINCIPAL MARVIS MEEKS

MVA Parents,

As we say goodbye to 2023 and usher in 2024, our staff is preparing to "Soar Beyond Our Potential". Each day we are focusing on providing students with high academic/behavioral expectations and building community relationships. We welcomed Mr. Jordan Taylor as our marketing specialist and he is working diligently to showcase all of the wonderful school stories we have to share!

Just a reminder regarding our food services policy...

- 1.) If your child packs a lunch, he/she will not be given components of school lunch.
- 2.) Federal guidelines state that outside snacks/treats are not prohibited in the building. Please refrain from bringing cupcakes, cookies, and/or snacks for a class parties. We want to continue to stay compliant.

We have a few students, primarily middle, who have been irresponsible with their phones. Please advise your student to leave their phone at home, when possible. We have instructional goals to focus on and cellphones can be very distracting.

Stockings for the Teachers

Wright State Education Day

Next week we will be resuming our NWEA Map Testing for all grades. Students will be testing in Reading and Math. The test usually takes 45-60 minutes to complete. Please make sure your student gets adequate sleep before coming to school.

We have a new staff member, Ms. Tye Fletcher, who will be working with students (on Mondays) supporting students' "smart choices". We are also scheduled for a Career Week, January 30, 2024. If you would like to talk about your career or simply help out, give Ms. Meeks a call at the school.

Educationally yours,
Marvis Meeks, M.Ed.
